All I can say about this matter,

This matter is extremely serious!

and I have reached these extreme needs directly due to the REUTERS article --- called "DRASTIC CHANGE".

This email directed to HOME DEPOT onto community for dealing with the mess that LAW ENFORCEMENT REFUSES TO INVOLVE THEMSELVES INTO THE FAMILY THIS HOUSE -- BECAUSE LAW ENFORCEMENT HAS FAILED TO INVOLVE THEMSELVES IN THE FACT THAT I AM A TARGETED INDIVIDUAL OF GANG STAI end of the email.

Here are the photos I have taken after I composed this email in whole. Please read on --- for the importance to understand the reason why this door needs to be replaced. This door was taken from another room's door, in response that I told my mother I was going to have the actual door that was kicked in -- There is a remedy that never was done.

I said I was going to have a professional fix the door if they do not find a time to have this repair actually happen. The whole thing was stupid in the first place. But goes to show the level of the hostile environment that I am actually living here.

That I had to yell to the loudest level --- "FIX THE GOD DAMN DOOR" about 30 times. Their fix of the door really was not satisfactory. The door was not a correct fit. So, in the battle, I have taken the door they attempted to fix, to use as a rattle to get the attention of the seriousness of these matters. You are only involved in a public story anyway. Thank you.

The action on this email on June 24th, 2022 is from actually intended addressee James Martin Driskill. Consent to leave this in a complete confidentiality [not bearing on any faults of Home Depot] is being modified. As I have that right.

This is addressed to the concerns that are happening under the roof of the service address: 3260 Grande Vista San Bernardino CA 92405

Unmotherly Mother Veronica Ann Warnick Driskill,

You have been confronted and you are still mentally blocking the reality of the circumstances.

There is no way to say it -- you need to be taken into a proper mental health evaluation,

Where that is?

San Bernardino County is obviously not trustworthy.

By doing these actions that drive hate mentalities instead of dealing with reality honestly with responsibility... you continue without being corrected. There is no one that you listen to. Absolutely the problem.

<http://realityaudit.life/GodExists/Eldridge-Driskill/OnlyThingThatMakesSense-FamilyAreHaters-LifeOfJamesMartinDriskill-InDanger/>

You now are trying to back stand on that you have no idea why I am so upset.

The Organization of this may look strange, but it has a reason --

"Including people with disabilities in these activities begins with identifying and eliminating barriers to their participation."

In the links in this section, they point to downloaded CERTIFIED INTELIOUS BACKGROUND CHECK REPORTS That are contained in the ONLINE FOLDER PATH ABOVE.

My Intelius Report is [James Martin Driskill]

My Mother's Intelius Report Is [Veronica Ann Driskill]

One of these identified barriers is my very own currently living family.

Your mother, my grandmother is spinning in her grave.

[Helen Muriel Warnick]

My father also is spinning in his grave.

[George Garfield Driskill]

And as of the death of your brother, my uncle who upon his passing as been given access to this same truth.

My uncle, John Warnick is spinning in his grave.

My Uncle's Intelius Report Was Not Available For The List Of Reality in the Actors Involved In This Family and the intentional violation of my rights to adequate health care.

Contact a lawyer -- for I know that is my next step.

I am not here in all ways consensually speaking.

If I leave here as one of the missing again,

I do so as an "Endangered" [a legal use] person who has been intentionally restricted from my HIV CARE and therefore, those actions drive me to leave this house as one of the "missing" as an "endangered person" several times.

In that I have been drawn back here to confront these matters --

I was in Santa Cruz when I discovered that my mother actually can communicate on SMS messages. She had said that her Macular Degeneration was a cause that creates her to not use technology. Unable to read. But she can read. Before I was in this house from Denver, my nephew who lives in this house and kicked in my door recently said she could not read.

Home Depot: That is what you are here to correct this door. That is why I have written the background story of truth.

That was captured in a Facebook Messenger they created in the disturbance that I requested something of importance. They created a messenger account under her name for a reason.

Can not find what I had just given in an URL:

My dearest nephew, you say you have just enabled an excuse. If you do not know which I'm not going to instruct your you to do so because at this point I'm so angry at my mother for waiting to the very last possible second of time. There is a blind interface for Facebook. And that's also messenger. So once again you have to chest excuse my mother away from the address that I just placed on to Facebook live.

Which is intentional sir that sir person-to-person that's James to David. She has intentionally created a wedge between her and meperiod or her and the world if you want to make it that way now she has no friends her family is breaking apart the fact that she has nothing to hold her if you go. You are in a codependent relationship with my mother and I do not like it. Codependency look it up it's not right.

End of Messenger Snipit,

WHEN EXACTLY WHEN DO YOU STOP PLAYING THESE GAMES!?

The High Cost of Being Calm is what you have instilled into this family.

The High Cost of Calm | Psychology Today

<https://www.psychologytoday.com › articles › the-high-...>

May 4, 2021 — It's not just a fundamental part of Maslow's famous hierarchy of human needs; feeling safe undergirds growth.

What does that say about feeling safe?

With all that remains out of balance of focus and abound to its disastrous conclusion of end games here, of course, I do not feel safe.

I am not here making it difficult for my mother as an unending focus.

I am here making it difficult for my mother because she is the root of the foundation of why a community is allowed to hate on her son.

She allows this to continue because she is silent to the outside world of the truth that is actually here.

The truth that is the truth -- -and the everlasting punishment of cruelty she and everyone else is acting in --- by not having a serious tone discussion with me.

That is all that has to happen -- to start to find the need to complete the greatness of all things --

The real and not a lie of needed family sourced consolation!

Point Blank, I have been an "Endangered" person inside this home since I was cut off from HIV Care by Doctor Eric Tomoni Shigeno in March of 2019, and this family has not addressed this matter as a family matter.

From Below CDC Document:

Time To Clarify - Why It is Apparent The US Never Signed The CRPD Observed from 2006 but was authorized and signed in 2009 by Barack Obama -- What gives the family right to break the laws too? <enable@un.org>

Very specifically is addressed:

"Family and community support and engagement"

The matter has been shuffled off onto a personal problem of James Martin Driskill, when it is not.

Not even close.

From Below of Today's Issue of the New York Times - very relevant to these issues in this house and the mission of my very own presence in this house and in the community in general.

The decision, in effect, says the Constitution guarantees the right to carry a firearm outside the home. The ruling will likely reverberate beyond New York.

How about carrying a gun inside of one's home to protect one from their own family. I have already attempted to hire security personnel from bark.com - and I am not kidding.

It is obvious that this family has intentionally created a hostile environment against me as a family member.

My mother continues this attitude.

It is against the law.

The ruling law that applies is covered in this document among others.

Disability Inclusion | CDC

Disability inclusion allows for people with disabilities to take advantage of the benefits of the same health promotion and prevention activities experienced by ...

Disability Inclusion

Disability Inclusion: Making sure everybody has the same opportunities to participate in every aspect of life to the best of their abilities and desires.

What is Disability Inclusion?

Including people with disabilities in everyday activities and encouraging them to have roles similar to their peers who do not have a disability is disability inclusion. This involves more than simply encouraging people; it requires making sure that adequate policies and practices are in effect in a community or organization.

Inclusion should lead to increased participation in socially expected life roles and activities—such as being a student, worker, friend, community member, patient, spouse, partner, or parent.

Socially expected activities may also include engaging in social activities, using public resources such as transportation and libraries, moving about within communities, receiving adequate health care, having relationships, and enjoying other day-to-day activities.

Disability Inclusion and the Health of People with Disabilities

Disability inclusion allows for people with disabilities to take advantage of the benefits of the same health promotion and prevention activities experienced by people who do not have a disability. Examples of these activities include:

- Education and counselling programs that promote physical activity, improve nutrition or reduce the use of tobacco, alcohol or drugs; and
- Blood pressure and cholesterol assessment during annual health exams, and screening for illnesses such as cancer, diabetes, and heart disease.

Including people with disabilities in these activities begins with identifying and eliminating barriers to their participation.

One in four American adults has a disability.*

*2016 Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS)

Why is This Important?

Disability affects approximate 61 million, or nearly 1 in 4 (26%) people in the United States living in communities. Disability affects more than one billion people worldwide.^{1,2} According to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, people "... with disabilities include those who have long-term physical, mental, intellectual or sensory [such as hearing or vision] impairments which in interaction with various barriers may hinder their full and effective participation in society on an equal basis with others."³

People with disabilities experience significant disadvantages when it comes to health such as:

- Adults with disabilities are three times more likely to have heart disease, stroke, diabetes, or cancer than adults without disabilities;⁴
- Adults with disabilities are more likely than adults without disabilities to be current smokers;⁵ and
- Women with disabilities are less likely than women without disabilities to have received a breast cancer X-ray test (mammogram) during the past 2 years.⁶

Although disability is associated with health conditions (such as arthritis, mental, or emotional conditions) or events (such as injuries), the functioning, health, independence, and engagement in society of people with disabilities can vary depending on several factors:

- Severity of the underlying impairment
- Social, political, and cultural influences and expectations
- Aspects of natural and built surroundings
- Availability of assistive technology and devices
- Family and community support and engagement

Disability inclusion means understanding the relationship between the way people function and how they participate in society, and making sure everybody has the same opportunities to participate in every aspect of life to the best of their abilities and desires.

Against Their Will: Locked away in a mental hospital after voluntarily seeking help

Strangeness: All 5 of these test results are not at all consented to the proper authority of health wellness care of patient James Martin Driskill. I would assume the last two result tests are the exact same data. I also would assume that it took 9 hours [6:12 am and 3:05 PM] before the need to break the "planned anonymity" to what all of this shows in the test results that I am not going to [view] those results from this end. This is a deception of high crimes and I am not going to say it is OK to just carry on and leave the interpretations and agenda of these tests to what I claimed from my side is a VERIFIED UNTRUSTED DOCTOR/PATIENT RELATIONSHIP FOR THE HELL OF ALL HELLS FUCKED UP HUMAN! The RELATIONSHIPS that I HAVE ENCOUNTERED from MARCH 2019 forward are not focused on HIV TREATMENT but intended for some kind of other SINISTER DASTARDLY OUTCOME that I can only stipulate here. I ASSERT THAT I AM IN THIS PATHWAY OF DESTRUCTIVE CARE BECAUSE OF A TECHNOLOGY BUG INVOLVED IN THE ENTIRE SYSTEM OPERATING AS A DUAL POINT ACCESS OVERLAY ACROSS OUR ENTIRE INTERNET THAT CROSSES OVER A BRIDGE FROM GOOD TO EVIL ACCESSING THE DARKNET [I am a FORMER NOTARY!!! What sensitivity do you think I might have to this invisible presence in our culture?] #BigManKillingTechBug -- Among other services affected, CRISIS TEXT LINE. @Gruwup.net [et al] is my intellectual property and active [valid] informational society internet web presence mission of a PEACE BUILDING, TRUST BINDING, TRUTH AFFIRMING, and DISHONESTY CONFRONTING networking ideal. This being PLAN B -- PLAN A failed from 2021 -- To Murder Me or at least take me out to a forevermore LOCK UP in a mental health system with no access for my family to get me released. You are all going to FREAK OUT! The prior 3 tests in a TEXAS BASED Mental Health System Provider of Canyon Creek Behavioral Health NEVER OCCURRED! First thing is an unquestionable fact. The Discharge Date I left Texas back to California was November 3rd 2022. On December 8th, A Blood Drawing Needle in The Air Of Time and Distance between Texas To California Was Able To Get out [] from the veins of human James Driskill for this sinister plan? Also, for the entire inpatient care, I never had any doctor ordered blood work tests performed. More important is the reason why I was there and perhaps what caused them to change their minds to have released me when PLAN A FAILED! I was transferred from the Williamson County Texas Jailhouse. They dropped the charges that were against me and I was told that my stay was "voluntary" and only a couple of days. You see, in the jailhouse, they had to get me out of the way. For I was making claims that the removal of the fire protection system smoke detectors from 24 individual cells in the INFIRMARY was a violation of code. MORE to why these smoke detectors were removed. All of these cells had an available 120V AC plug outlet [for like heart monitoring equipment] . Taking these two things into consideration, the modification to the cells only can be deductively reasoned to be specified for some future plan of use, as TORTURE CHAMBERS. They stuffed me down into a padded cell for 3 weeks, perfectly quiet and asking for the SMART JAIL MAIL Terminal to be fixed. No Access. Jailhouse-wide, as I had noticed, all of the CTRL keys were disabled. Making it unable to use COPY/PASTE a feature that would easily transfer the also interface communications between their operations staff and inmates. So, they transferred me to the BELL COUNTY facility. I thought was voluntary but actually involuntary. Under that involuntary status, there was court dates that were occurring according to the papers I have, that I had no idea [or consent] or representation. Somehow they decided I was too smart. There was some signing of papers, the lawyer was direct with me to tell me that I was taking the status of my stay there to "voluntary" and I was actually released. One other factor that might have been involved in having altered PLAN A was that my Humana Insurance did not approve full coverage for this involuntary stay. They already filed in court that I was a danger to myself for a full 45-day next observation period. The nightmare that we all know begets us as a fear --- it was very much real for me. When I got back to California and found something even more frightening. I told my mother. Regardless of that -- My mother is acting more like them in the most recent events in this house. I am not surprised by this family. Whatever it is that creates this betrayal of family connections, it has shown itself to be real within my very own family. I DEMAND A FULL $900 REFUND that I personally paid! That refund instantly and every aspect of the disconnections of civil society and every aspect of the digital damages across all of my internet accounts that have suffered from these circumstances or I pursue and will definitely be successful at FULL LICENCE REVOCATION TO EVERY DOCTOR SIGNED DATA OF AUTHORITY SINCE MARCH 2019 INCLUDING THE HOSPITAL OVERNIGHT STAY IN LOS VEGAS-- I KNOW I AM AT TARGETED INDIVIDUAL AND THE FACT -- THE BIAS AND THAT KNOWN STATUS AMONG THE POPULATION IS ALLOWED TO CREATE A DIFFERENCE OF CHOICE PATHS FOR THEM AND FOR ME! THIS IS EVIL! I FURTHER DEMAND THAT DOCTOR RICHARD ANGAH IS NOT ALLOWED TO BREAK THE RELATIONSHIP FOR US AND THAT HE ASSIST ME IN BRINGING THIS MATTER INTO A PROPER DISCUSSION TO BRING FORWARD THE RESOLUTIONS TO ALL FUTURE TIME HUMANITY OF KINDNESS! Brining the active motive agendas of THESE KEY #ConspiracyExposedTerminatesASAP - #ConspiracyExposedTerminatesNow -- OR I PURSUE LEGAL REPRESENTATIONS IN A DOWN OUT RIGHT HONEST FIGHT INSTEAD OF PEACE RECONCILLATION.

DAVID ALLEN DRISKILL: The EVENT that is noted here is happening realtime -- and these are REAL EVENTS of REALITY! AND AS SUCH -- REALITY IS TRUE... YOU AND I HAVE AN ISSUE and I DO NOT CARE if my MOTHER DOES or DOES NOT ESTABLISH HERSELF to the CORRECTION that MUST OCCUR! Basically, Ever Since I have returned into this house that is indeed REGISTERED ON GOOGLE MAPS as [@Gruwup.net Peacebuilding Website] with the ORGINIAL ADDRESS REGISTRATION of the Internet Domain Creation Date July 2006, with the PERMISSION of my FATHER, your GRANDFATHER GEORGE GARFIELD DRISKILL - AND REMAINS IN EFFECT -- AND IT IS THE DEMAND THAT THE PERSONS IN THIS HOUSE - DO NOT CREATE THE INTENTIONS OF VIOLENCE THAT YOU DEMONSTRATED THE OTHER DAY. I DID NOT WAKE YOU UP ON PURPOSE -- BUT YOU GAVE ME NO OPPORTUNITY TO EXPRESS THE PRIORITES OF WHY I WAS BEING SO NEEDED OF ASSERTING MY STATEMENTS UPON MY MOTHER IN HER OWN [HEALTH NEEDS] THAT SEEM TO ALSO BE LOST TO SUCH IMPERATIVES TO HAVE ANY KIND OF FUNCTIONAL COMMUNICATIONS IN THIS HOUSE -- 24/7/365 -- BUT IT WOULD BE OBVIOUS THAT YOU ARE HOLDING AGAINST ME A HATE VENDETTA THAT DID INDEED ESTABLISH ITSELF IN YOUR ACTIONS THAT HAD NO JUSTIFIED REASONS WHY YOU PHYSICALLY NEEDED TO FORCE YOURSELF IN WRONGDOING BY KICKING IN THE DOOR TO MY BEDROOM!

IIIN THE EVENTS THAT OCCURED SHORTLY BEFORE YOU ACTED IN HATEFUL VIOLENCE TOWARD ME, I DID INDEED GIVE YOU AN OPPORTUNITY TO SPEAK - SO, I DID NOTHING ABSOLTELLY NOTHING WRONG -- AND IN FACT - DID EVERYTHING POSSIBLE CORRECTLY - AND -- YOU ARE THE INDIVIDUAL ADULT THAT IS INDEED "OUT OF CONTROL" OF YOUR EMOTIONS -- IT IS YOU THAT IS DESERVING OF REPRIMAND! IT IS YOU THAT MUST TAKE WHAT YOU DID - AND FIX THE DOOR -- IF YOU DO NOT FIX THE DOOR, I - HAVING TENANT RIGHTS - CAN INDEED HIRE A PROFESSIONAL - AND BACK CHARGE YOU FOR SUCH REPAIR!

I DEMAND THAT THE REPAIR BE PERFORMED IMMEDIATELY! I DEMAND THAT YOU PERSONALLY APOLOGIZE TO ME. I DEMAND THAT YOU GIVE ME SOME KIND OF EXPLANATION FOR YOUR ACTIONS. I DEMAND THAT JUST AGENDA TERMINATE! I ALSO DEMAND THAT YOU PLACE SUCH APOLOGY PUBLIC ON FACEBOOK TO THE ATTENTION OF YOUR CIRCLE OF CONTACTS - AND THAT IS INDEED A DEMAND ! IN SO THAT YOU ATTEMPT TO AVOID TO FULLFILL SUCH DEMANDS - GET THE FUCK OUT OF THIS HOUSE WITH YOUR HATE AND VIOLENT OUT OF CONTROL ACTIONS AGAINST ME! I HAVE DINE ABSOLTELY NOTHING UPON YOU TO DESERVE SUCH ACTION AGAINST ME! FUCK YOU!

The Morning

June 24, 2022

By Ian Prasad Philbrick and Matthew Cullen

Good morning. The Supreme Court declared that Americans have a broad right to arm themselves in public.

The justices struck down a New York State law. Haiyun Jiang/The New York Times

A new status quo

Two major developments in Washington yesterday upended the terrain of the American gun debate. The first was a Supreme Court ruling striking down a New York State law that restricted people's ability to carry guns in public. The second was the Senate passage of a bipartisan bill that would become the most significant change to federal gun safety laws in nearly three decades.

"Both of these things are very rare," said Alex McCourt, a public health lawyer at the Johns Hopkins Center for Gun Violence Solutions who studies the relationship between gun policy and gun violence. "The Supreme Court doesn't do Second Amendment cases very often, and Congress doesn't pass major gun legislation very often."

McCourt cautioned that it would take time to fully see the effects of yesterday's events. But because the Senate's bill is narrow — the result of a bipartisan compromise — he and other experts predicted that the court's move to broaden gun rights would probably have a more significant effect on gun violence.

Today's newsletter explains how yesterday's developments may change the status quo.

The case

In a 6-3 ruling, the Supreme Court struck down a century-old New York law that required people who wanted to carry a concealed handgun in public to demonstrate a need to do so. The law, Justice Clarence Thomas wrote for the majority, prevented "law-abiding citizens with ordinary self-defense needs from exercising their right to keep and bear arms in public."

The decision, in effect, says the Constitution guarantees the right to carry a firearm outside the home. The ruling will likely reverberate beyond New York.

California, Hawaii, Maryland, Massachusetts and New Jersey have similar laws that they will be forced to rewrite. "We can expect other states' laws to be challenged and eventually for the Supreme Court to refine what is permissible," said our colleague Jonah Bromwich, who covers criminal justice.

America's gun violence problem is already worse than that of similar nations. Democrats and experts fear the ruling will increase the number of guns on the streets and make shootings more common.

Senators Mitch McConnell and Joni Ernst were among the 15 Republicans to vote for the bill. Shawn Thew/EPA, via Shutterstock

The bill

The Senate passed the gun safety bill, with 15 Republicans joining Democrats. Speaker Nancy Pelosi has pledged a quick vote in the House.

The fact that Congress is on the verge of passing a gun bill at all is notable, and its efforts come just weeks after two horrific mass shootings — at a supermarket in Buffalo and an elementary school in Uvalde, Texas — helped prompt lawmakers to pursue legislation.

“So many times over the last couple decades, we’ve seen Congress fail to act after a devastating shooting, even when lawmakers and advocates vowed again and again that it would be different,” Emily Cochrane, a Times congressional reporter, told us. “It finally was different.”

But the legislation doesn't include the toughest gun control measures that advocates sought, reflecting the realities of an evenly divided Senate. One provision would make it harder for people under 21 to buy a gun by requiring law enforcement to check purchasers' juvenile and mental-health records. But that provision would expire after 10 years, a caveat Republicans insisted on.

Another provision would close the so-called boyfriend loophole, adding intimate partners to the list of domestic abusers who are barred from buying a gun. But the ban would expire after a few years for first-time misdemeanor offenders who maintained a clean record, and Republicans demanded it not be retroactive.

A third measure sets aside $750 million to help states implement red flag laws, which let judges temporarily confiscate guns from people who threaten themselves or others, as well as other crisis intervention programs. But the bill stops short of creating a federal red flag law.

Republicans have blamed mass shootings on mental-health problems. The bill includes hundreds of millions of dollars to train medical workers and school personnel to respond to mental-health crises and funding for school safety programs and school resource officers.

What's next?

Enacting the Senate bill may have only a limited impact on gun violence in the short term. Studies suggest that closing the boyfriend loophole would reduce gun violence, McCourt said, but the effect of more funding for mental health is less certain. Gun purchases often spike after mass shootings as Americans fear new restrictions, and the latest congressional action could similarly drive sales. There's also no guarantee that states will actually adopt the red flag laws the bill incentivizes.

Some experts fear that yesterday's court ruling lays the groundwork to challenge even red flag laws. In his majority opinion, Thomas wrote that gun laws must be rooted in historical tradition to be constitutional.

But the ruling is already driving left-leaning states to consider additional gun control laws that comply. Kathy Hochul, New York's Democratic governor, vowed yesterday to pass new restrictions. "Gun laws are really being remade in real time in this country in a way that's truly remarkable," Jonah said.

And the court's conservative majority itself appears somewhat split. Thomas's ruling endorsed an aggressive reading of gun rights. But two of his Republican-appointed colleagues — Brett Kavanaugh and John Roberts, the chief justice — wrote in a concurring opinion that the Second Amendment, "properly interpreted," permits a variety of gun regulations, appearing to endorse the constitutionality of many state gun laws. That makes it hard to know how much further even this deeply conservative court is willing to go.

'The right to go missing': What happens when an adult disappears? Alyssa ZaczekSCTimesView Comments2:014:15ST. CLOUD — Many of us are familiar with our inalienable rights: life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. But American adults have another, lesser-known right: the right to go missing. "If you, as an adult, want to take off and need some time alone, you're entitled to do that," said St. Cloud Police Assistant Chief Jeff Oxtan. "That's the right to go missing. And that can generate legitimate, and sometimes illegitimate, concerns from others." According to Oxtan, most cases of missing adults in St. Cloud, and in Minnesota in general, are resolved without incident. "Most missing persons, we find them to be OK. We find that there's been a misunderstanding, or there was another reason they weren't where they were supposed to be," Oxtan said. But that doesn't necessarily mean that all missing persons cases are resolved quickly. The St. Cloud Police Department is still looking for the public's help locating 51-year-old Adam Paul Peckham, according to Oxtan. Peckham was last seen on the afternoon of July 25 in the Cloverleaf Trailer Park off U.S. Highway 10. He is believed to have left the park on a bicycle, and did not arrive to work that afternoon. He has not been seen since. What happens when an adult goes missing? And when the trail seemingly goes cold — what happens then? For the first two hours it's a common misconception that adults must be missing for 24 hours before a concerned party can report their disappearance to the police. Oxtan said that especially "when there's a (reporting) delay for some reason, or something bad has happened, the first two hours are critical." "There's just not (a waiting period)," Oxtan said. "And I think that comes back to, you know, people see it on TV, or whatever, that they have to be missing for 24 hours. But that's just not true." According to statute 299C.53 within the Minnesota Missing Persons Act, upon receiving a missing person report, unless they have direct knowledge that the person in question is not missing, police must begin an investigation regardless of how much time has elapsed since the person was last seen. "I've been doing this for 25 years, and in all my time, if I got (missing persons) call, my response has never been, 'Well, they have to be missing for 24 hours,'" Oxtan said. A good rule of thumb? Follow your gut. If something feels off about a person being out of contact or not showing up when and where they were expected, call the police. In preliminary investigation after receiving a missing person report, police will attempt to find the person in question, which may include reaching out to the person who placed the initial call as well as friends and family. They may also check local hospitals and jails. Often, Oxtan said, the person will be located safe and sound, and the report resolved as a simple misunderstanding. Police may also find that the person is exercising their right to go missing. "Sometimes the investigation comes back with, 'Nope, they're just fine, they moved and just wanted to get away from everybody,'" Oxtan said. But in other cases, the missing person is considered to be "endangered," a term that introduces an additional element of urgency to the case. When is a missing adult considered endangered? "Endangered" is a legal term defined in statute 299C.52, where many examples of possible factors are listed. But, as every case is unique, police are expected to make informed judgment calls about whether the missing person is at risk of injury or death. Again, the right to go missing comes into play when determining endangerment. Unlike missing children, who are almost always considered endangered due to their age and vulnerability, adults of sound mind and body may legally decide to disappear. Some missing persons are clearly endangered from the moment the report is made — if they were seen being forced into a vehicle, for example — while other circumstances are less obvious. Medical concerns, like diabetes or dementia, can result in a missing person receiving endangered status. "If you hear a person is diabetic and needs insulin, but their insulin kit is not with them ... that (level of endangerment) just went up a lot, because we now know they don't have the ability to care for their medical needs," Oxtan said. Other circumstances, like relationships with those known to be violent, may also contribute to ruling a missing person endangered. "If we find out that this person has a very rough relationship with somebody, there's been some threats that have been reported to police, and now they're gone, that's definitely going to make us go down that (possibly endangered) road," Oxtan said. Once a person is determined to be missing and endangered, police immediately inform the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, which will then offer assistance in the investigation as needed. Endangered or not, any person reported missing who cannot be contacted or located by police will be entered into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) database as a missing person with any context or circumstances relevant to the investigation. What happens once entered into the database? "There is some urgency in getting them entered," Oxtan said. "This helps you clarify (the situation) sooner, potentially. ... If somebody runs across them two hours away because of a traffic stop, we can get it all sorted out much earlier." Once entered in the database, the person in question is flagged as missing and, potentially, endangered when police run their name through the system. Police can also use the information in the database to determine if the person, once found, is a danger to themselves or others. Oxtan gave a fictional example: A boss reports an employee missing from work, but she knows the employee previously told a co-worker they wanted to hurt themselves. Being able to quickly enter that person into the database, including the necessary context of possible self-harm or suicidal thoughts, could potentially save a life. "Maybe (law enforcement) finds them up in Fargo, and then they can take them to the hospital," Oxtan said. What happens when a case goes cold? Until a missing person is found, their entry in the NCIC database remains active, according to Oxtan. And once entered, police don't stop investigating the disappearance. There are leads to chase down, interviews to conduct, and possibilities to explore. But, as some cases wear on — like that of Adam Peckham, who has been missing for over a month — police may decide to ask the public for assistance. "If we're not getting any leads, we do sometimes fall into a holding pattern, or that's when we'll reach out for the public's help," Oxtan said. Help from the public can, and often does, lead to vital breaks in missing person cases. But, inevitably, some cases do go "cold," with no new, viable leads to follow. Of course, "cold" doesn't mean "closed," nor does it mean "unsolvable" — Central Minnesota's most famous missing person case, Jacob Wetterling's disappearance, was solved after nearly 30 years without answers. But the family and friends of missing persons can, and often do, turn to the internet for additional help investigating, as well as for community support. NamUs.gov catalogs unresolved missing, unidentified and unclaimed persons for public viewing and use. The database has directly aided the resolution of 2,362 missing person cases, 1,734 unidentified persons cases, and 46 unclaimed person cases nationwide. The Doe Network, which allows civilians to search unsolved missing persons and unidentified body cases and submit possible matches, has solved or assisted in solving 87 cases since its inception in 1999. While it's true that adults have the right to go missing, Oxtan says police don't treat missing adults' cases with any less urgency and dedication: "We put all our resources into it."
